Princeton University's dean of the faculty is the senior administrator responsible for the quality and well-being of the faculty and professional staffs of the university.

This collection consists of individual personnel files for nearly every individual at one time employed as a member or Princeton University's faculty or professional staff. The files contain a wide range of materials, from published articles to correspondence, salary records, and obituaries.

Materials in this collection are subject to the terms of the University Archives Access Policy. Faculty and Professional Staff Files, which are the official records transferred from the Office of the Dean of the Faculty, are closed until 100 years after the person's year of birth or 5 years after the person's year of death, whichever is longer.

Single photocopies may be made for research purposes. For quotations that are fair use as defined under U. S. Copyright Law, no permission to cite or publish is required. The Trustees of Princeton University hold copyright to all materials generated by Princeton University employees in the course of their work. If copyright is held by Princeton University, researchers will not need to obtain permission, complete any forms, or receive a letter to move forward with non-commercial use of materials from the Mudd Library. For materials where the copyright is not held by the University, researchers are responsible for determining who may hold the copyright and obtaining approval from them. If you have a question about who owns the copyright for an item, you may request clarification by emailing mudd@princeton.edu.

A searchable index of the faculty and staff files is available: Princeton University Faculty and Professional Staff Index, 1764-2006.
